Class History

By Orpha Yost

It was on a bright September morning in 1917 that a group of little girls and boys with bright shiny faces tripped up the steps of the Old Primary Building, escorted by proud mothers, to meet our now dear friend, Miss Ella. There were fifteen of the present class who entered school under this guiding hand.

Gradually we pushed onward, picking fruit from the tree of knowledge.

Year by year followed, until finally the great day came when we were escorted to the new High School Building, where we as 8A students were placed under the supervision of another very dear and patient friend, Miss Wheatly.

It was on September 5, 1925 that thirty-five green (yet not so green) "freshies," who had journeyed through the grades together, were ushered unceremoniously, but not unnoticeably into the Freshmen rooms, where with twenty-two other Freshmen, who had come from other schools, we formed a total of seventy-seven.

It did not take us long to become accustomed to our surroundings and make ourselves at home. Soon under the direction of our friend, Mr. Bauer, we organized our class.

Our Sophomore year ran along smoothly and we were looked upon with respect by the faculty as well as the Seniors.

Days slipped by rapidly until we entered our Junior year which proved more eventful than the preceding ones. We sponsored two parties, edited one of the best "Medinians" ever published, and showed the Seniors a good time at the Junior and Senior party and banquet.

It was in the fall of 1928 that we took up our big responsibility. We, as Seniors, supported one of the best and most successful Lyceum Courses ever sponsored by a class. Many participated in athletics, debate, and in the operetta. Another activity which contributed to the entertainment of the community was our class play, "Come Out of the Kitchen," which showed that we even possessed some dramatic talent."

We appreciate the readiness with which the faculty have given their efforts to send us on our way to higher learning and it is with much sorrow that we leave our dear old M. H. S. and the members of the faculty.

President's Address

By Donald Snyder

As president of the Class of 1929, it is my privilege to extend to you the cordial welcome of each and every member of the class to these, our commencement exercises.

In completing our High School course, we have availed ourselves of a privilege which is the right of every boy and girl. The nation has come to demand that at least a majority of its people must have a High School education thus providing intelligent citizenship necessary to insure the future welfare of our country and its institutions.

We have been prepared for our future by able and conscientious teachers and supervisors, and if we have failed to benefit as we should from our four years of High School training it is through our fault.

From tonight on we will start out in the walks of life, each one in a different direction, but each one using this same preparation. The advantage that we take of our opportunities in the next few years will determine our status in life.

We realize that we owe our preparation for citizenship to the wisdom and the hope and labors of the people of this town. There is no greater monument to their wisdom than the fine school facilities which they have provided.

The educational history of Medina dates back almost to the laying-out of the village, and was inaugurated in the proverbial log cabin school-house, the first temple of learning erected in the town.

Later there were three separate elementary schools in Medina village. For higher learning there were Select Schools, some for girls only, and some for boys only. Miss Charlotte Weld opened a Medina Female School at her home in 1841 for instruction in the following branches: Reading, Writing, Spelling, Geography, English, Grammar, Natural Philosophy, Chemistry, Algebra, Latin, Rudiments of French, Mental Philosophy, and Geometry. The tuition in this vast array of studies was from one dollar and a half to three dollars and a half per quarter, according to the studies pursued.

Mr. and Mrs. Barnes opened a Select School in 1845. William P. Clark opened a Medina Select School in 1847. S. G. Barnard opened a Select School in 1856 for those desiring to qualify themselves to teach. By this time a union school of the three elementary schools was held opposite where the old high school now stands.

Thus, the cause of education was advanced by degrees, the common school system was perfected and facilities were improved and enlarged until they reached their present state of perfection.

There was necessity for more building room, and so in 1871 the school board composed of John Rands, A. R. Whiteside, and L. B. Woodward, undertook to build a new school building. The Board thought that they could save money if they would build it themselves. T. C. Allen, Architect, drew the design, and they started to build. Finding that they had undertaken too much, they let the contract to complete the building to William Hickox of Medina. This building cost $19,000 in all.

The grades, high school and all were in the new building, and there were three rooms left vacant. Mr. Comings was the first superintendent.

About the same time that the new school building was finished, H. N. Carver started a Medina Normal School, which carried the regular college work, until it was discontinued permanently in 1878.

Everything went along smoothly until the high school building became crowded and a building was erected where the new high school now stands, which held the Kindergarten and the first four grades. In 1911, the Garfield building was built to accommodate the higher grades. In 1916, the County Normal School was opened in Medina to prepare students for teaching. This was continued until 1925, when it was abolished by the Legislature.

The enrollment in the school became so great that it was necessary to build the new high school building which was finished in 1924, with all modern equipment.

Not only have the school facilities been enlarged, but along with the increase of educational opportunities, the town has grown and prospered until we now have one of the most progressive modern towns in the state of Ohio.

As I have shown you in the development of Education, we of the class of 1929 have had more advantages than any graduating class up to this time. We are going out into the paths of life better prepared and with more experience than any class heretofore.

With this as a background and our motto, "Forward ever, backward never," always before us, we should go forth to serve the world better than we could have done without this education.

Beyond a mere monetary return from an education we have still another value, by far greater—greater because it makes for the happiness of the individual—and that is the means of getting the most out of life. Who will question the thought that the art of living is the highest art of all, and it is to this end that we are all looking forward.

As we go out in life your eyes will follow us to watch our progress. We hope that you will be satisfied with our success and that you never will have a reason to regret the sacrifice that you have made for us. We sincerely thank everyone that has made this occasion possible for us and again bid you welcome to these commencement exercises.

Valedictorian's Address

By Clara Kuntz

Friends and Classmates:

The time for which we have looked forward with great anticipation has finally arrived. We, as students of M. H. S., must now bid farewell to all our schoolmates and friends. Many of us regret doing this sorrowful task, for dear are the friendships formed during these four years.

The time has come when we must meet more serious and difficult problems of life, and these some of us must meet and overcome with the knowledge we have acquired during our high school education; while others of us, who are more fortunate, will go on to school for higher education, and thus be more fully prepared to meet these problems.

We shall have to adapt our lives to more serious modes of living. Some of us might and will pick our future work from the various activities in which we have taken part during our time here. But others have yet to choose our place in life. In years to come we hope to be represented in all the different phases of life.

Our school has done much to help build and develop our characters. It gives us a faculty that works for and with us, that takes an interest in us and our work, thus helping to bring out our best capabilities.

It has, also, given us opportunities and occasions to help bring out in ourselves the things in life for which we care most. It has taught us how to know the best in life, and how, if we followed the best, we would overcome or avoid all evil.

Tonight as we step across the threshold into life, we are hoping and praying that all of us may become credits to our school and our town and that you shall be proud of all the achievements that we hope to make.

Oh, of course, we know that it takes a large amount of work and unfailing determination, but we will turn back. "Forward ever, backward never," is our motto.

We shall begin our journey in the valley and slowly ascend the mountain-side toward the top at which success awaits us. Some of us may be better climbers than others, but none of us, once we start, will ever turn back. Although we may have to make many twists and turns, or go in a round about way, we shall always aim forward, toward our goal. For we believe in what the poet has said:

If you come to a place that you can't get through,
Or over, or under, the thing to do
Is to find a way round the impassable wall,
Not say you'll go Your way or not at all.
You can always get to the place your going,
If you set your sails as the wind is blowing,

If the mountains are high, go round the valley;
If the streets are blocked, go up some alley;
If the parlor car's filled, don't scorn a freight;
If the front door's closed, go in a side gate.
To reach your goal this advice is sound:
If you can't go over or under, go round.

Some of us may not reach the height of the mountain, success—we may only be half way—but if we are still going forward and we have resisted the temptations by which we might have acquired success more easily, we will be considered great and gain our victory.

As through life we slowly toil upon our way, many and many will be the times when we shall recall memories of our dear old Alma Mater. But as they come back to us, at times when we are lonely, we shall gain faith from them to go forward in order that we might bring our achievements back to our dear high school. Not only will we ourselves endeavor to go upward, selfishly, but we will assist others who need perhaps just a word of encouragement.

If during our journey through life we encounter trouble along the way, let us meet it with resolute and cheerful hearts. Let us not hide our faces! Then again if we think we are beaten and have been knocked down, let us get up smiling and not think it a disgrace. We are better for it, for we profit by it.

If we have done the best through life and helped others, then our work will be considered good, even though we may not have gained some great honor. Always let us do things the best that we know how.

And now as we are about to depart from these walls which hold so many fond recollections, and as we realize that we must go forth into this great world and make a name for ourselves, we are sad and reluctant in leaving, not because we are not ready, but because of the thought of parting. We cannot express our feeling so we bid you a fond farewell.

"WE part—no matter how we part,
There are some thoughts we utter not,
Deep treasur'd in our inmost heart,
Never revealed, but ne'er forgot!

Why murmur at the common lot?
We part—I speak not of the pain—
But when shall I each lovely spot
And each lov'd face behold again?"

The Class Prophecy

By Eugene Schlechty

On the morning of March 3, 1949, I left my home in Orlando, Florida, and boarded a train for Washington, D. C. I was on my way to witness the inauguration of our first woman president, Miss Dorothy Hoyt.

As I sped along, I glanced out of my window and there before my eyes lay Professor Amos Ruch's famous Agricultural Experiment Farm. Amos' works had surpassed Burbank experiments.

Just as the sun was peeping over the horizon, the next day, I pulled into Washington. I at once started for a hotel. As I walked down the street, I beheld this sign—"B and B" Hotel. That looks like a nice place thought I, so I entered. Imagine my surprise when I saw Wilma Baish and Priscilla Barna, owners of the hotel. I put my grips in my room and then set out for the Capitol. It was now about nine o'clock, and a large crowd had already collected. Being a personal friend of Miss Hoyt, I had no trouble in gaining a good seat.

The ceremony commenced at 12 o'clock and lasted three hours. Miss Hoyt was sworn into office by Louis Brereton, Chief Justice of the Supreme Court.

After the inauguration I returned to my room. Presently a knock sounded on the door. The door opened and in walked Jerome Abrams. I surely was glad to see him. When asked what he was doing, he replied, "Oh, I am the private detective for the new president." I then suggested that we go and eat. We walked about two bolcks and halted before a large restaurant. On the windows, these words stood out in gold, "Smith and Buchanan—Hash Hurlers." I wondered if these names could apply to my old M. H. S. chums. My thoughts were soon put into truth, for there behind the counter stood John Buchanan and Leland Smith, taking their turns at flipping hamburgs. After a good lunch and a hearty talk, I returned to my room.

The next day I received a message requesting my presence before the president. So, rather nervous, I was ushered before our chief executive. I received quite a shock when she appointed me as Ambassador of Good Will to foreign countries. The president explained that, being an internationally known politician, it was no more than right for me to take the position and thus study foreign affairs so the U. S. could treat them in a better manner.

On March 15, I left the White House and began my journey by airplane to New York. My first stop was Philadelphia. At two we landed on top of Eaken's Capitol Theatre owned by Ralph Eaken, who also operates nineteen other such theaters scattered over the northeast portion of the U. S.

After an hour's rest, my pilot and I circled over Philadelphia. I looked down on these letters on top of a large building—Yost and Perkins, School of Commerce.

About 5 o'clock we arrived at Trenton, New Jersey. We decided to stay here for the night, so my pilot parked the plane at the Drop-Inn-Airplane Grounds, owned by Almerin Chaffee and Norman Tubbs, who also ran an aerial service between Trenton and Seattle, Washington.

The next morning we again took off and landed thirty minutes later on top of the Citizens and Savings Bank. Dismissing my pilot, I took an elevator down to the first floor. As my Travelers checks were rather low, I entered the bank, and asked to see the President. I was taken into his office. As he had his back turned toward me, I spoke, and when he wheeled around, I nearly fainted. I was facing Olin Tibbitts. I told him my plight and he instantly fixed me up. "Pete" then took me out to dinner and later to an Opera House. I looked over the program; there was the heading—

"Charlotte Spahr" in the opera 'Fantasies."

After the opera I went to Olin's mansion on Fifth Avenue. There I met his wife and twins. During our conversation of our school days, I learned that two of my friends were with the New York Giants—Harvey Shook, holding first base, and Lloyd Gilbert in the "cage."

After a good night's rest and bidding farewell to Olin and U. S., I departed for England on the Oceanic Flyer, piloted by the most careful aviatrix in the world—Clara Kuntz. So after a twenty-four hour flight, I arrived at Bristol, England. I was met by the Prince of Wales, who escorted me to London in the flying fleet.

At London I was formally received by the King. After an official banquet, we were entertained by Monsieur Sponseller's Traveling Harmonizers who were touring Europe.

After a week's tour of England, I went to Spain. Here I found economic conditions very poor. I went to Valencia to talk over conditions with the newly appointed Consul, George Reinhardt. Here I was entertained by a bull-fight. The toreador, famed throughout two continents, was Paul Hange.

After a stay in Spain, I took an airplane which landed me at Rheims, France. There I met Viva Shaw, the organist of the Rheims Cathedral. At Paris, I had the pleasure of greeting another old classmate, Miss Jean Gayer, designer of Parisian gowns.

From Paris, I flew to Belgium. I was very much surprised at the modern ways of living. I took one day off, just to look at the modern buildings at Brussels. One building especially interested me. It was a tall skyscraper. On the top was a large electric sign, reading, JULIAN ARNDT—World's Leading Rug Manufacturer.

From Brussels, my next stop was at Berlin, Germany. I visited the president and gained some very important facts on their government. The president then introduced me to his cabinet. Among the members, I was exceedingly glad to see Albert Schultz, Secretary of Agriculture. He had returned to Germany, taken out citizenship papers, and now supported his country to his fullest extent.

From Germany, I arrived in Rome, Italy. Here I attended a recital. I had the honor of seeing Mary Pelton, making her debut, as a soloist in the "Italian Songsters."

Having visited the outstanding countries in Europe, I took an airplane and left for China. After fourteen hours of flying, I landed at Peking. During my two weeks' stay, I visited Hankow, Shanghai, Hongkong and other important cities. I found missionary work progressing under the direction of Bernadine Weaver. The school system had also changed since Katherine Lutsch had been sent over by the U. S. Government, as administrator of the Educational Department.

I left China and taking a flying ship found myself in the Philippines. Here the new Lt. Governor, Ralph Siman, met me and made me acquainted with their affairs.

I then sailed for the Hawaiian Islands. Remaining here for a few days I ran across Donald Snyder, world-famed surgeon, working on a cure for cancer. At last I arrived in old U. S. A. At San Francisco, I met Ted Oleska by chance. He told me that he had taken up Einstein's works and was putting the finishing touches on his theory. I next visited Hollywood. I received another surprise here. Shirley Goodwin and Carmen Campbell had just received leading roles in a new talkie, "The Night Before," produced by Mabel Williamson, the leading talkie producer. While at Hollywood, I received an invitation to visit Jeanne Bowman at her home in Los Angeles. I immediately left and found her happily married. She showed me an invention which she had just perfected, a silent electric airplane, the electricity being generated by the force of the wind blowing against the fans.

My time being nearly up, I chartered an airplane and hopped to Chicago. I spent the night with Robert Hartman, manufacturer of unbreakable poker chips. At Cleveland I witnessed a tennis match—Lucile Gordon and Elizabeth Kelser opposing Lois Flickinger and Rosemond Green. They were playing off the national championship.

In Akron, I attended a banquet given by Richard Washburn, a second Houdini. The dinner was prepared under the direction of Lucile Stackhouse and Marie Tekus—heads of the National Cooking School in Akron. Leaving Akron by motor, I arrived in Pittsburgh, Pa., some hours later. I picked up a newspaper in a hotel and read the following items: "Miss Ruth Short and Miss Elizabeth Gable" announced the opening of their new Beauty Parlor and Hair-dressing Shoppe on East Seventh Street. I was glad to know of their success. Farther down the page, I read a poem written by Adeline Baird whose works were in constant demand. I turned over the page and there was a large ad telling of a wholesale of tractors and other farm implements at the "Buy Here" chain stores owned by Frederick Willis.

I reached Washington at last and found a new terminal building in construction, much larger than the newest station in Cleveland. I inquired as to who the engineers were and learned that they were none other than Merle Averill and Eugene Woodruff.

And so I reached the White House, presented my notes and facts to the president and was honorably dismissed. I boarded a train and reached my home in Florida, a little later. Happy was I of returning and of having the good fortune of meeting all of my class of '29.

Class Song '29

(Tune: "Juanita")

Sad are our hearts,
As we leave our dear High School;
There's where we laboring
Kept the "Golden Rule."
We depart, tomorrow,
To traverse life's rugged hill,
Till we reach our goal
Doing better still.

CHORUS:
Farewell, teachers and classmates,
Though our memories linger so;
And our dear Alma Mater
Good-bye, we must go.

Viva Shaw.

Class Will

By Eugene Woodruff

Know all men by these presents that I, Eugene H. Woodruff, in behalf of the Senior class of 1929, being in fairly sound health, nearly sane mind, and due to the uncertainties of life, do make, publish, and declare this writing to be jointly as well as severally, our last will and testament for our high school.

First: We bequeath to the faculty all of our surplus knowledge to be distributed equally among them.

Second: We bequeath to the Freshmen of 1930 the task of removing the gum from under our desks in Room 229, selling it, and with the proceeds paying off our debts which we have accumulated during four years in high school.

Third: We bequeath to the Sophomores all our unused study periods to be used by day dreamers only.

Fourth: We bequeath to the Juniors our seats in assembly to be used only with the dignity of a Senior.

Julian Arndt bequeaths his schoolboy blushes to "Red" Kendall which are to be used to hide his freckles; Merle Averill bequeaths to John Wyman his ability to loaf five hours while on duty and not go to sleep; Jerome Abrams bequeaths his half of the famous company, Rowe & Abrams, to Robert T. Rowe; John Buchanan bequeaths his speedy walk to "Fat" Shirey; Adeline Baird bequeaths her ability to draw pictures to Marguerite Willis. Wilma Baish bequeaths her vanity case to Florence Bagger.

Priscilla Barna bequeaths a much used, in fact very much used, basketball suit to Pearl Smith; Jeanne Bowman bequeaths her quiet manner to Helen Winters, to be used in Miss Phillips' classes. Louis Brereton bequeaths his curly hair to Duane Babcock to be used with discretion. Almerin Chaffee bequeaths his honorable position as back-stage manager to George Winters; Carmen Campbell bequeaths her ability to keep quiet to any Freshman girl, providing that she makes use of it on her first date.

Ralph Eaken bequeaths his knowledge of running a picture machine to Red Cole; Lois Flickinger bequeaths her ability to acquire a date on five minutes notice to Helena Heiss; Elizabeth Gable bequeaths her angelic behavior to Janet Gibbs; Jean Gayer bequeaths the ignition system of her Chevrolet sedan to any Sophomore who can make good use of it; Lloyd Gilbert bequeaths one barrel of sweet cider and a dozen stale doughnuts to Chink Davis to be used at next year's Senior party.; Shirley Goodwin bequeaths three slightly used bus stubs from Windfall to Medina to Helen Rickert.

Lucille Gordon bequeaths her ability to manipulate a Ford bus-line from Poe to Medina to Martha Stoyke; Rosemond Green bequeaths a slightly used Civics book to any Junior who thinks he can behave in Miss Phillips' Civics class; Paul Hange bequeaths his ability to break all track records to Bill Whitney; Dorothy Hoyt bequeaths all her unused study periods to Pete Woods; Elizabeth Kelser bequeaths her slender figure to any Freshman who is over weight; Clara Kuntz bequeaths her ability as valedictorian extraordinary to any Junior who hopes to attain that position next year.

Katherine Lutsch bequeaths her friendship with Miss Phillips to Virginia Gunder; Ted Oleksa bequeaths one pair of Coveralls to Joe Zsarnay to be used in his agricultural experiments; Mary Pelton bequeaths 3 unused sticks of Spearmint and 2 used sticks of Black Jack to Sara Denton; Ida Perkins bequeaths her position at the telephone office to any Junior who can ring the wrong number as often as she can; Amos Ruch bequeaths his power over women to Charles Jacot; George Reinhardt bequeaths his ability to concentrate in assembly to Lyman Koons; Albert Schultz bequeaths his ability to use the "King's English" to Roy Williams; George Sponseller bequeaths his willingness to be flirted with to Dudley Bagley; Eugene Schlechty bequeaths his ability to make fancy shots to Gleason Halliwell; Viva Shaw bequeaths her ability to play (the organ) with her feet in front of the assembly to Ruth White; Harvey Shook bequeaths his ambition to become a minister to Jimmy Brown.

Ruth Short bequeaths one used 'cello string to Iola Swift in hopes she can make two fiddle strings of it; Ralph Siman bequeaths his extraordinary agricultural knowledge to Frank Simmerman; Leland Smith bequeaths his dexterity at flipping hamburgs to Corwin Hoff; Donald Snyder bequeaths his persistency in trying to acquire dates to Ernest Pelton; Charlotte Spahr bequeaths her ability to chew gum and talk simultaneously to Letha Ritter; Lucille Stackhouse bequeaths her daily rides in an Overland to Miriam Snyder; Marie Tekus bequeaths her ability to make button holes and bake cup cakes to Beatrice Bowman; Olin Tibbitts bequeaths his bold personality to Lawrence Leggett; Norman Tubbs bequeaths his ability to juggle milk bottles at 3 A. M. without waking the customers to Clarence Escott.

Richard Washburn bequeaths his ability to debate on the question of prohibition to Norris Frost, with the provision that he use it in Miss Phillips' classes; Bernardine Weaver bequeaths one much used brief case to Rosella Wyman; Mabel Williamson bequeaths her ability to squelch any underclassmen who dares to question her personal affairs to Ella Mae Tibbits; Frederick Willis bequeaths one double-barrelled shotgun and a 1927 hunting license to any Freshman wishing to become a second Daniel Boone; Orpha Yost bequeaths her ability to be Mr. Conkle's right hand man to Elizabeth Mette.

In witness whereof, we, the testators, the class of 1929, have to this will set our hand and seal this 6th day of June, 1929.

SYNOPSIS OF THE SCENE

A three-act comedy. Act I. The drawing-room of the Daingerfield mansion. Act II. The kitchen—afternoon—two days later. Act III. The dining-room—just before dinner on the same day.

THE PLOT

Due to the illness of Mr. Daingerfield it is quite necessary for Mrs. Daingerfield and him to go to Europe to recover his health. They leave behind them in Virginia their four children—Elizabeth, Paul, Olivia, and Charles.

Owing to the fact that it is necessary for Mr. Daingerfield to have an operation, the finances are low and it is necessary for the children to rent the old southern mansion to a rich northerner, Burton Crane, for $5,000, during the heighth of the hunting season. The one thing that he is particular about is white servants and if those wishes are not fulfilled the contract will be broken. Randy Weeks, an admirer of Olivia, has ordered a group of white servants from Washington. Getting a telegram that these servants will not be able to come, it is necessary for the children to substitute until more white servants can be secured. Olivia is the cook, Charles the useful boy, Elizabeth the upstairs girl, and Paul the butler. When Burton Crane and his guests do arrive, the household is in a tumult.

Mrs. Falkener, a dignified social climber, is the terror of the servants. It is her sole ambition to have her daughter Cora, marry Burton Crane, while in realty Cora is in love with Thomas Lefferts.

Mrs. Falkener and Tucker finally succeed in having all the servants discharged except Jane Ellen.

By this time Burton Crane, though disgusted with everything, has fallen in love with Jane Ellen. Circumstances lead to believe she is Olivia Daingerfield, and the play ends happily.

Jeanne Bowman.

Class Poem

When the end of school is drawing nigh
And we'll never again return,
We'll think of the things we might have done,
And the lessons we should have learned.

When in future years we look back
To the High School days that are gone,
We'll think again of the friends we made,
And the years that have passed along.

How we long to return to school again,
And see each cheerful face,
To study the same old books we had,
And sit in the same old place.

But these are forever gone from us,
And we're leaving Medina High,
To return to our work of the future,
With many a sorrowful sigh.

Although we leave this place so dear,
We'll boost her in every game,
And try to make her proud of us,
By working for her name.

Adeline Baird.

In September a group of fifty Sophomores were conducted to Room 221.

We have been a group of willing workers for Medina High, winning Girl's and Boy's Basketball Tournament, also the track meet.

Our first semester we elected the following officers: President, Ruth White; Vice-President, Leroy Williams; Secretary-Treasurer, Maxine Brought.

Junior B Class History

By Cecyl Shook

In January 1927 twenty pupils emerged from Mr. Gibbs' room, and we began our career as students of Medina Hi. We withstood the difficulties of being "Freshies" quite well, with Mr. Fenn willing to come to our rescue, which he did occasionally. We had two parties during our first year.

At the beginning of our Sophomore year seventeen had survived the knocks of the previous year. Our class was small, so last Fall we were put down in the Bookkeeping room, with Mr. Robeson for our home room teacher. It was probably decided we would be out of the way down there.

But now we are Juniors and even that effort has failed, for our class of sixteen climb up to room 221 with the Junior A's when anything is being said or done concerning the Juniors.

Our class officers are: President, Marcella Aylard; Vice-President, Brayton Moore; Secretary, Norris Frost; Treasurer, Nettie Lubin.

Sophomore A History

By Miriam Snyder

On September 6, 1927 a class of eighty-five arrogant, though exceedingly green "Freshies" proudly entered Medina High School, where they were placed under the care of Mr. Fenn, Miss Houston, and Miss Rickard. We had two Freshmen parties and everyone had a fine time.

The Sophomore A class at present is well represented in all of the High School activities. We elected officers: President, Garnard Cowling; Vice-President, John Abbott; Secretary-Treasurer, Miriam Snyder.

Perhaps it was a green crowd of thirty-nine Freshmen B's who entered Mr. Fenn's room in January 1928, but that was only natural. Otherwise we would not have furnished the required amusement for the upper classmen.

Since we are Sophomores, thirty-five in number, we are loath to remember those days now long past, and turn gladly to assume the responsibilities which the High School may thrust upon us as we progress further.

Freshman A History

By Rae Root

The Fall of 1928! School starts! Sixty-eight "Freshies" praying that the upper classmen will use discretion! That's us!

No doubt we were a green bunch then, but we have "wised up" since.

Our social activities have consisted of two successful parties, details of which appear elsewhere.

Class spirit and pep is our aim in all that we undertake.

Freshman B History

By Francis Rockwell

One nice January morning about thirty-two lonely Freshmen came straggling into room No. 118. Miss Watters, the teacher, kindly welcomed us. Most of us acted rather lost, but just as dignified as the Seniors. We have several musicians in the class also athletes. Watch our "smoke" two or three years from now. Our class hopes to leave a very fine record for our old Medina High.

Social Activities

Senior Class Party

December 19th was the date the Seniors picked to hold their party. Eight o'clock found us in the auditorium and as the saying goes, "raring' to go." We played games for awhile until the jingle of Santa's bells announced the arrival of good old Saint Nick with appropriate presents for all, which were distributed with much joviality.

After many delays refreshments were served in the council room which was decorated in true Christmas style. Later we returned to the auditorium and danced to music furnished by several talented musicians of M. H. S.

The Ruff Neck Partie

we had the swellest time we ever had in M. H. S. at our senior partie. Evrywon was met by 1 guy on each side of the dore that smeered on are fases with blak and read paint. after evrywon had came they took us up to the awditorum. their we was all lined up fur a big perade ta sea wich had the swellest outfit on. the juges was louie brereton & orfie yost that pict out Hic Houston & Hec Claggett. they sure was drest krazie. we was amused by a lot ov diferunt stunts, then we all went down and et. we aint never tasted nuthin so well in all are born daz. aftre we got don the partie busted up.

Junior Class Party

"APRIL FOOL"

Maxine Brought.

Sophomore Party

The first party of the Sophomore class was held on November 9, 1928. The evening was spent in playing games and dancing. Later refreshments were served.

The second party on March 28, 1929. This was a hard-time party. So during the evening many exciting games including "Cootie" were played. Refreshments were served and the party came to a close at ten o'clock.

Miriam Snyder.

Freshman A Class Party

Our first class party was held on December 7, 1928 in the M. H. S. gym. About forty attended this event and everyone joined in the fun. After a delightful evening of games and dancing we enjoyed refreshments served in the council room.

The next social event of great importance took place April 12, 1929, in the gym; not quite so many out, but as much fun. The only thing that marred the merriment was sticky fudge. The fault of the boys (?)

Rae Root.

Junior-Senior Banquet

One of the most delightful events of the school year was the annual Junior-Senior Banquet.

For this gay occasion the council room was artistically decorated with the Senior class colors, old rose and silver.

By the time everyone had come, we were all anxiously awaiting the delicious banquet, which was to be served.

An address of welcome by Ruth White, President of the Junior Class, was answered by Donald Snyder, President of the Senior Class. After this burst of oratory, several others contributed their quotas.

The rest of the evening was spent in dancing. When time to go home everyone felt as if he had really enjoyed himself.

Ruth Ewing.

Operetta

The cast of "Cinderella," the operetta given by the H. S. Chorus on February fourteenth, was delightfully entertained by Rev. and Mrs. J. P. Brereton at the Episcopal Parish, Wednesday evening, February twenty-seventh.

While playing games we discovered in our midst talented sculptors, authors and excellent "gum chewers."

The famous "Spoon-Plate Band," directed by Rev. Brereton played "O Sole Mio" while refreshments were served.

Everyone agreed that this was one of the most enjoyable events of the season.

Flora McCarrier.

High School Picnic

The annual High School picnic was a success this year. The afternoon sports were immensely enjoyed by all.

We'll all admit that Miss Phillips knows how to plan a good menu, and that Mr. Fenn is the champion lemonade-maker.

All in all the day is a pleasant memory.

Flora McCarrier.

Freshman B Class Party

One of the delightful events of the Freshman B class was a St. Patrick's party held in the auditorium on Thursday, March 14, 1929.

Many exciting games were played. This was followed by dainty refreshments.

At (?) o'clock we departed for home feeling that we spent a very enjoyable evening.

Debate

As in previous years Medina High School was a member of the triangle with Wadsworth and Barberton.

The question this year was: "Resolved, that U. S. should cease to protect by force of arms capital invested in foreign lands except after a formal declaration of war."

On Friday afternoon, March 22, the Barberton negative team came here to meet our affirmative team, made up of Donald Snyder, Captain, Ruth White, Mabel Williamson, and Katherine Lutsch. The Judge, Professor Utterbach of Oberlin, gave the decision to Medina.

On the same afternoon the Medina negative team composed of Louis Brereton, Captain, Beatrice Oakes and Jeannette Wait went to Wadsworth to oppose their affirmative team. Professor Dana T. Burns of Baldwin Wallace gave the decision to Wadsworth.

Wadsworth's negative team also won over the Barberton affirmative team at Barberton, making them the winners in the triangle.

High School Music Notes

By Sara Denton

During the year as regular assembly programs, many interesting musical selections were rendered by the various organizations of the school.

The High School Band in their fine crimson and gray uniforms, presented a program of stirring music at the football rally on Friday, September 27th, when we played Wooster here. The band in street marching, drilled by Mr. Fenn, made a fine appearance especially with Harold Thompson as Drum Major (with his fine new nickel baton).

The Christmas program planned by the orchestra, owing to the danger of "flu" was given on the stage and "broadcast" to the students in their respective home rooms. Miss Elizabeth Fretz was a guest of the orchestra and played her 'Cello. Among the numbers played were "In a Monastery Garden" and "Beneath the Holly," Christmas Carols, etc.

In commemoration of the Lenten season and Easter time, Rev. Charles Searles of Hinckley gave a short talk, using as his subject "Liberty," and as a prelude to his remarks Florence Thatcher sang Gounod's "There's a Green Hill" and Lucille Hemmeter Long sang the "Gloria" by Buzzia Peccia. Mr. Beck played Handel's "Largo."

The May Festival, given May 10, consisted of Garfield Chorus of 350, selections from the Garfield Band, Eighth Grade Orchestra, Garfield Orchestra, Eighth Grade Boys' and Girls' Chorus, and High School Band. There were solos on organ, flute, trumpet and clarinet. Vocal numbers, too, were enjoyed.

Two programs of especial interest were given by the Garfield Orchestra under the direction of Charles Bart and by the chorus of the first grade under the direction of Miss Virginia Dunn. The latter acted out their songs.

Operetta

Early in October the High School Chorus began rehearsals on the operetta "Cinderella" by Edward Johnston; and this was the outstanding musical event of the year.

John Beck, our Supervisor of Music, was ably assisted in the training of the cast, by Beatrice Houston and Edith Allen; the costuming was under the direction of Eleanor Wright. Members of the Medina Symphony formed an orchestra which did excellent accompanying, augmenting the piano, played by Viva Shaw of the class of '29.

Nearly 1700 people heard the two performances of the operetta; which was pronounced by many, as the best musical production given in Medina.

High School Chorus

Viva Shaw

Viva Shaw again has received the honor of being presented with the Edna Rickard Hamilton Silver Cup, awarded to the most outstanding musical student in high school. It is now her's to keep.

Viva is an exceptional student in both academic work and in music. Her scholarship is high; she plays the flute, the piano and the organ. Along with all this she has found time to be pianist of the Glee Club, and a member of the band and orchestra. Medina wishes her success in her life work as a musician.

On Friday, April 19, 1929, Viva gave an assembly recital. She played the following numbers: Organ—Prelude and Fuge in C Minor—Bach; Romance—Hayes; By the Brook—Boisdeffre; Marche Nuptiale—Faulkes. Piano—Scherzino—DeLeona. Flute—Au Revoir—Lichner.

Vocational Agriculture Notes

By Ray Selzer

The Vocational Agriculture Department started last fall with an enrollment of thirty-five, with five in the Farm Crops and ten in the Agricurtural Engineering class. Albert Schultz was graduated in February and one dropped out leaving an enrollment at the close of the year of thirty-three.

The work of the department is divided into five units of credits; each year one unit is given except in the Sophomore year when Farm Shop is given. In order to obtain credit in school a project related to the study is carried on at the home farm. The aim of the work is to arouse within the boy's mind of high school age an interest in Agriculture and to aid him in acquiring the characteristics of good leadership and citizenship.

The community work is carried on. The department does soil testing, milk testing, corn testing, spraying with the school sprayer, and many other similar enterprises. Thousands of gallons of spray are applied each season on project orchards, project potatoes and privately owned orchards. The Agriculture Engineering class built a brooder house for a farmer while studying farm buildings the past winter.

Several trips are planned each year. This year trips have been made to the Ohio Experiment Station; to the Baby Chick Fair at Columbus; and to the Potato Train at Elyria. The judging team will go to Columbus this spring. Ralph Siman and Frederick Grimm are competing in the Public Speaking contest for Agriculture students. Mr. Duke is planning to take his classes to Cleveland to visit manufacturing plants.

Football

By Corwin Hoff

R. E.—Oberholtzer—Oberholtzer's first year of Varsity Football turned out to be very helpful to Medina High School. With two more years of football, he should become an exceptional player.

Oberholtzer registered Medina's first touchdown of the year by retrieving a fumble in the Berea game.

R. T.—Horkey—Steve, after considerable coaching developed into a fine lineman. He played his best game after being enraged by an act of the opposition which did not suit him. One of these games happened to be a Ridgeville, where he distinguished himself by intercepting a pass.

R. G.—Hoff—"Schuyler's" modesty in this write-up prompted him to omit his name, but an account for the team could not afford to leave out mention of his good work on the line.

C. Shook—After playing several games as a tackle last year, Shook was reformed and made into a fine center by "Jack Robeson." Shook graduates this coming June.

L. G.—Gilbert—In his last year as a high school student won himself a place on the varsity eleven. His presence in the lineup greatly strengthened the line and made it much more formidable. We will miss his presence in the coming campaign.

L. T.—Escott—Played good ball consistently throughout the season. He was perhaps the best tackler on the team, and if he continues to improve we will be much pleased, for he has still another year.

L. E.—Moore—"Tony" was this year converted from the backfield to a position at the left end. In this position he was able to spill many plays of the opposition. "Tony" is only a Junior and has still another year to play under Medina High School colors.

Q.—Averill—"Hum" played quarterback until an injury of his right arm forced him from the game. He showed his gameness by playing several games with this broken arm. This is "Hum's" last year as a member of M. H. S. football team.

F.—Hange—"Pat" playing his fourth year as a member of the team, made it his best. Pat is one of the best line-plungers Medina High has produced. He played an exceptional game at Wadsworth and thus ended his football career in fine style.

L. H.—Cole—"Red" was the smallest on the team but an excellent tackler and exceptional "broken field" runner. He failed to be "knocked out" once, which shows his gameness and grit. With two more years ahead of him he should become an exceedingly fine player.

R. H.—Davis—"Chink," playing his third year of football, formerly played an end position but was converted into a fine backfield player. He showed his worth particularly at blocking and clearing the way for the rest of the backfield.

L. E.—Washburn—"Dick" earned his letter playing left end. Altho rather tempermanental he developed into a fine player. The Ridgeville game proved to be his best exhibition of football.

L. G.—McFadden—After an injury in last year's campaign, "Sleepy" came back this year and won himself a letter. His pounds added weight to the line and made it much harder for the opposition.

Front row, left to right: Williams, Oberholtzer, Averil, Gilbert, Woodruff.
Middle row: Hange, Hoff, Escott, Carsten, Shook.
Back row: Robeson, Coach; Schafer, Manager; Taggart, Asst. Coach.

The Basketball Team

By Lloyd Gilbert

ROY WILLIAMS—R. Forward

Roy represents quality, not quantity. Playing his second year for Medina High, he proved himself Medina's most capable point-maker. With Roy at forward for another year, prospects look bright for Medina's 1930 basketball team.

HARVEY SHOOK—L. Forward

Harvey played his second and last year for Medina High at left forward, where he succeeded time after time in breaking up the offensive's plays. He is also good at making baskets. We will miss Harvey the coming year.

CLARENCE ESCOTT—Center

Escott, altho not one of the high scorers of the team, was one of the most important cogs in the 1929 basketball team. He is an excellent guard and after jumping center would fall into a guard position where his services would be more valuable. He was in the midst of every play. Clarence is a Junior.

PAUL HANGE—R. Guard

"Pat's" second year of basketball was spent at a guard position. At his position he was able to break up many plays which would have otherwise been successful. He finished his career in fine style, scoring enough points in the Ridgeville game to be high-point man of that game.

OBERHOLTZER—R. Guard

After learning the fundamentals of the game of basketball in his Freshman year, "Funny" came out this year with the intentions of winning himself a place on the varsity. He was successful, for he played in practically all the games. With two more years he should develop into a fine player.

GILBERT

Gilbert is not what you'd call a tall person yet he was able to bust up many plays which would have otherwise been successfully executed. He earned his letter playing a guard position.—(Hoff)

AVERILL

Averill played well either in a guard or a forward position. Hum has kept plugging away at basketball until he has finally won a letter in this sport. He graduates this June. His services will be missed next season.

HOFF

When it comes to basketball Hoff was right on the job. He was good at long shots, but made most of his points at close range. He had hard luck in one or two games but surely made it up in the others. The squad will welcome him back next year.

Carsten, Cole, Escott, Shook, Hoff, Moore, Kirk, Grimm, Schafer, Vass, Robeson, Coach; O. Gilbert, Frost, Palker, Buchanan, Harley, Howath, Auker, D. Cole, Harold Potts, Manager.

HARVEY SHOOK—Class of 1929

"Shook"—This is Shook's last year to wear the Green and White. He plays left field. He is a good fielder and his absence will be felt next year.

CLARENCE ESCOTT—Class of 1930

"Escott"—Escott is a very steady left-handed pitcher. Escott has one more year to represent M. H. S. You can always rely on him when a hit is needed.

EUGENE COLE—Class of 1931

"Red"—Red is our catcher and holds his position very well. He has stopped many a man from scoring. He is a good hitter and a clever base runner.

CORWIN HOFF—Class of 1930

"Schuyler"—Schuyler covers second base and does it well; he is good at picking up grounders, also a good hitter.

LeROY WILLIAMS—Class of 1930

"Roy"—Roy is our midget short-stop and is good at picking up fast ones. We are glad he has another year to play for M. H. S.

BRAYTON MOORE—Class of 1931

"Tony"—A very reliable first baseman; he is usually able to reach first each trip to the plate. He has two more years to wear the Green and White.

RUSSELL KIRK—Class of 1931

"Russ"—Plays third base and keeps most of them from scoring. He is a good hitter.

MILFORD HARLEY—Class of 1931

"Milford"—This is Milford's first year of baseball and he proves to be a good out-fielder, also a fair hitter.

HERBERT CARSTEN—Class of 1930

"Carsten"—Our right-handed pitcher—who shows good control and also plenty of steam. He plays in the outfield when not pitching.

DONALD GRIMM—Class of 1932

"Don"—A snappy catcher and a fair hitter. Has three more years to play.

STEVE VASS—Class of 1932

"Steve"—Steve is a pitcher and with three more years to play should prove valuable. He is also an outfielder.

MAYNARD SCHAFER—Class of 1930

"Mose"—This is Mose's first year to play on the Diamond. He is an outfielder.

NORRIS FROST—Class of 1931

"Frost"—Norris is our utility fielder and can be relied upon to stop the balls that come his way. He has two more years to play.

The following track meets are scheduled:
April 27—Invitational Meet—Mansfield
May 4—Duel—Wadsworth at Medina.

The Basketball Team

By Eleanor Beedle

Guard—FLICKINGER—Class '29

With her hands on the helm of the Green and White ship, "Flick" played consistently up to the mark of the ideal athlete. An adept, plugging guard, a fearless fighter in every moment of the games, she admirably discharged her duties as "Honorary Captain" of the M. H. S. squad.

Forward—GREEN—Class '29

"Rose," gaining considerable prominence in basketball last year, she won her place as forward on this year's team. This being her last year in school, the team of next year will miss her hard work and efforts for a winning team.

Guard—GORDON—Class of '29

"Gordy" became one of the High School stars and won her letter by hard work. She had the "never-say-die" spirit, and she worked with diligent toil. She was always on hand when needed.

Guard—KELSER—Class '29

"Tib" was the kind that you never wanted to run up against twice; she was built strong. She played a fast, careful, clean game and she made a very good guard. "Tib" put up a plucky fight and gained her laurels.

Guard—YOST—Class '29

"Yost" is a hard consistent fighter, who gives all she has. She can be relied upon until the last whistle. We will miss her willingness and sportsmanship to fight for M.H.S.

Guard—PERKINS—Class '29

"Perk" has played for the M. H. S. and has a great deal of knowledge of basketball. "Perk" was without a doubt one of the best players on the high school team.

Guard—GAYER—Class '29

"Jeaner's" basketball personality, first exhibited in her sensational floor work of the Fostoria game there, was just one example of her ability as a basketball player.

Guard—BARNA—Class '29

Between every two words that are spoken of this indomitable guard's record should be inserted the word "Fight"; for "Prissy's" forte was fight. She waited for her Senior year to fight her way into a regular guard berth at the season's outset.

Forward—BEEDLE—Class '30

"Brainy" was one that was quick and accurate. She never tarried, but was up in action. She played with a grit that was seldom found in the other players. She would never say we were beaten, but always said, "We will win." (Allen).

Forward—WOODS—Class '32

Short shots were considered a mere trifle when it came to making baskets. In fact if that old saying about a horsehoe is true, "Pete" must have had one hid somewhere.

Guard—BAGGER—Class '31

"Bagger" a faithful and reliable player, who was willing to give her best whenever called upon, deserves a full share of praise. We are thankful that she will be with us another year.

Guard—GUNDER—Class '31

"Ginny" was a guard worthy of mention, because she had that good old fight for Medina. She was a "nifty" passer and a fast player on the floor. When she decided not to let the enemy score she could not be stopped.

Forward—BOWMAN—Class '33

"Bea" was always willing to play the game when given the opportunity. She was a fast player and passed well, never failed to "be on dot" in receiving passes.

Forward—ECKER—Class '33

"Ecker" has been loyal in her service of the Green and White. She did stellar work in several of the games. She made an excellent forward and never gave her opponents any chance where she could prevent it.

Center—AVERILL—Class '32

"Slats" held her position as center on the basketball team in fine style and when the ball came her way she displayed her good marksmanship. Her accurate goal shooting won her much fame.

On March 13 and 14 an inter-class basketball tournament was held and much to the surprise of the Sophomores, the Juniors won.

Coach Allen

Coach Allen, who developed our champions, and the cup which was awarded the team by the Northern Ohio High School Athletic League.

Abrams Clothing and Shoe Store

An old lady visiting in an insane asylum observed the inmates at work. One man was standing in a corner idle.
"My good man," inquired the old lady, "why don't you work, aren't you crazy?"
"Yes mum, but not that crazy," the man replied.

Cowling: "How can you tell if a girl loves you?"
Williams: "You mustn't.

Eleanor: "Did you ever see a horse with a wooden leg?"
Merle: "Yeh, on a merry-go-round."

Little Johnny (looking at triplets), "Which one are you going to drown, Ma?"

There's one consolation for a man who drives a hearse. He doesn't have to listen to any back seat drivers.

$25,000 Interest from $12,000 Principal

If a miser hid away $25 a month for a period of 40 years, he would have $12,000, granted that he kept his secret from thieves.

The same $25 a month, deposited in the Citizens would give safety and at the end of the same period he would have not $12,000 but $37,801.69. The difference of $25,801.69 represents the part that Citizen interest has earned. Interest compounded works night and day, and takes no time off.

John Wyman ran the mile for the Juniors in the inter-class track meet. However he recovered in time for the class party—one week later.

Tubbs: "Did you ever drink Canada Dry?"
Horkey: "No, but I'm going to try some time."

THINGS THAT NEVER HAPPEN

Merle Averill getting into his football suit in fifteen minutes.
Corwin Hoff in a hurry.
Paul Hange not getting hurt in a football game.
Lois Flickinger in by ten o'clock P. M.
Mose Schafer catching a fly and making a safe hit in same game.

Amos Ruch: "Are you the man who cut my hair the last time?"
Barber: "No, sir, I have only been here a little over a year."

Oberlin School of Commerce, Inc.

This school is having one of the best years in its history. Students are in attendance from about seventy different high schools located all over Ohio, also from the states of New Yorw, Pennsylvania, Indiana, California, Mississippi, Montana, Washington, New Jersey, North Dakota, Ontario, Canada, Michigan, and Canal Zone.

It is one of the few schools of business training in the United States having the college entrance requirement. This makes it possible to offer advanced courses of business training. High school graduates can accomplish so much more in a school where all are high school graduates than in the average business college where many have had little or no high school training.

The Oberlin School of Commerce is also attracting a number of students who have had college training. The following colleges and universities are represented in the student body this year: Ohio State, Bowling Green, University of Utah, Oberlin, Culver Military Academy, Depauw University, Wittenburg, Baldwin-Wallace and Capital University. To those who cannot take a four year college course but who wish to make thorough preparation for a business career, the Oberlin School of Commerce offers unusual opportunities.

Red Cole fell on the ice and struck his head in such a way as to render him unconscious.

Hange: "Has his mind left him?"

Woodruff: "It would have, but it was too weak to travel."

Lucile: "You remind me of a lazy owl."

Don: "How's that?"

Lucile: "You just don't seem to give a hoot."

"I always wear my glasses while I sleep."

"What for?"

"I'm getting so near-sighted that I can't recognize the people I'm dreaming about."

Mr. Brought: "Listen here, my young man, you spend every evening here with my daughter. Why don't you marry the girl?"

Tony: "Then where would I spend my evenings?"

Woodruff was changing a tire on the old collegiate with the assistance of "Garn" Cowling. Tony Moore came along and offered to treat the one who came the nearest guessing the correct weight of the tire. Garn guessed twenty-five pounds, whereupon Woody hilariously drolled his reply. "That shows how dumb he is. I just put forty-five pounds of air in that tire.

C. Spahr: "Why don't you sing in the chorus any more?"

Davis: "Because one day I stopped singing and somebody asked me if the piano had been tuned."

Lady: "Are you sure these lobsters are fresh?"

Fishmonger: "Madam, they are postively insulting."

Minister: "And what will you do when Gabriel blows his horn?"

Little Boy: "I'll beat it to the sidewalk."
